Notes:

1. (*) Indicates growth based on several variables for success. Consult your advisor concerning these variables.
2. A four-year degree may be necessary to be more competitive in the labor market.
3. Salary ranges and employment opportunities are varied depending on geographic location (whether in self-employment or working for another business), the amount of customer work received the number of hours worked per week, and level of education.

The projections for this bulletin were compiled from NC Labor Market Information Division of the Employment Security Commission, job openings received by the College, and the Career Choices Bulletin which is published by the NC State Occupational information Coordinating Committee (NC SOICC).
